1. Mission Statement

The Shire of Coorow's mission is to provide a customer focused quality service and infrastructure that will cater for the residents needs within the Municipality.

2. Profile & History

The Shire of Coorow is located approximately 270 kilometres north of Perth, and consists of three main town sites; Coorow, Leeman and Greenhead.

The Shire encompasses an area of 4,189 square kilometres, and has a number of natural assets, including beaches, national parks, and bushlands. Within the Shire, the towns of Leeman and Greenhead are coastal communities experiencing growth due to the establishment of holiday homes, expansion of tourism and relocation of retirees. The inland town of Coorow provides basic goods and services to residents of the town itself and the surrounding rural area. The Shire's primary industries are crayfishing and general tourism on the coast and agriculture in the hinterlands.

Historically, the area was managed by the Carnamah Road District. On 19 April 1962, the Shire of Coorow was created. In 1966, the Shire had a population of 808, and saw significant population increases until 1991, where the number of residents peaked at 1,526.

3. Enabling Legislation

The Shire of Coorow was established and operates under the provisions of the Local Government Act 1995.

The Local Government Act is the legislation which most closely affects Local Government, and directs it in the performance of functions which are necessarily local in nature. The Act provides Local Governments with broad and multi-functional powers, including rating and borrowing and the power to conduct and maintain a variety of works and services. The Shire is governed by this Act, as well as a number of other Statutes under which the Shire of Coorow has responsibilities. An index of other acts is available upon request.

4. Local Laws

Councils have powers to make Local Laws on a broad range of issues.

Local Laws may affect the ordinary day-to-day lives of all citizens within an area, since they cover such a wide range of activities. Local Laws need to provide a practical means of controlling a situation and should be long-term rather than temporary in nature.

A local Law may be made to apply generally or to specific times, places or cases. It may require a matter to conform to certain standards or requirements. It may delegate discretionary authority to a person or group, and may specify cases and conditions for exemption. A local Law may set penalties for breaches, within certain minimum and maximum limits.
